

AMERICAN COLLEGE PERSONNEL ASSOCIATION
BALTIMORE MARCH 2011

College Counseling and Psychological Services: Summarizing Ten Years of Literature

Alan M. "Woody" Schwitzer
aschwitz@odu.edu

Dana Burnett
dburnett@odu.edu

Old Dominion University

This program provides an overview of college counseling research, theories, and practices published in the student development, psychology, professional counseling, and college health literatures during the past ten years. The knowledge base informing campus mental health practice comes from several different psychological, counseling, and health professions. This program fills a gap by bringing the different literatures together and articulating important themes, findings, and remaining questions. Participants will learn about recent trends, share their knowledge, and leave with a detailed bibliography.

PROJECT WEBSITE ADDRESS

<http://education.odu.edu/education/collegecounseling>

The project website provides:

- PowerPoint summary of the project and presentation
- Detailed tables with more than 200 references spanning 10 years of articles published in the following literatures: College Counseling (J College Counseling, J College Student Psychotherapy); Student Affairs (J College Student Development, NASPA J, College Student J); College Health (J American College Health); Counseling Psychology (The Counseling Psychologist, J Counseling Psychology); & Professional Counseling (J Counseling & Development, Measurement & Evaluation in Counseling & Development)
- Extensive annotated bibliography